Appearance: Golden – Amber coloured grains of oats with caramelised internal starchy endosperm.

Application: Colour & flavour adjunct in brewing. Friable (easily crushed in a malt mill) the husk material helps keep the mash bed porous, enhancing mash filtration during sparging particularly when using non-barley adjuncts such as wheat and rye malts.

Characteristics: Golden wort combines classic oat creaminess with sweet, caramelised sugar. Adds body and a nutty, silky finish—great for mouthfeel and colour in modern ales.

Ingredient: 100% “green malt” (oats steeped & germinated before roasting).

Production method: Whole Oats (inclusive of the husk) are steeped, germinated then crystal-roasted in small batches at higher temperatures. Blended, dressed and packaged.

Country of Origin: UK. All grain used is 100% from UK Assured farms.

Food Safety: Our malts do not exceed legal or voluntary limits for various contaminants. Due-diligence sampling is carried out at or above UK industry (MAGB) agreed frequencies. Refer to our HACCP scheme for more detail.

Allergen Information: Oats, as with all cereals, contains gluten.

Packaging: Palletised 25kg sacks or 1000kg totes made from food-grade woven & laminated polypropylene. Product details printed on sacks and labels.

Best before date: 2 years from delivery date when stored in dry, cool location.
There is no “use by” or “expiry” date.

Other Requirements: All products must be supplied clean, and meet any specification provided by the Customer. See also malt data sheet.
